Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 18 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming cloudy with rain for many.

This Evening and Tonight:
Mainly fine initially, but cloud soon thickening as rain spreads across much of the region later this evening. Outbreaks of rain continuing through the rest of the night, although the far north is likely to stay largely dry. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tuesday:
Becoming very wet with rain spreading to all parts and turning persistent and heavy, particularly in the west. Rather cold with extensive low cloud and some snow over hills. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rain continuing Wednesday, persistent and heavy later. Colder Thursday, with a risk of gales and snow. Brighter Friday but cold with wintry showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.